Stories of Passion and Resurrection in John's Gospel

John has been called the spiritual Gospel. At its heart is the revelation that Jesus came down from heaven to reveal the transcendent God. John has no parables, no Twelve and no Kingdom of God. Instead, there are signs and symbols, paradoxes and a high Christology. But underneath there is a profound, yet simple message: the distance between God and humanity has been bridged in Jesus Christ. Those who believe in him are born anew; they participate in the shared life of God.

Join Ann Denham, M.Div, two Wednesday evenings in Lent, as we explore Holy Week Events in John's Gospel.

March 3rd & March 10th from 7:00 – 8:45pm, Brunsman Hall

March 3, we'll look at the situation of John's community and focus on the Entry to Jerusalem, the Foot Washing and the Supper Discourses.

March 10, we'll continue with the Passion and Resurrection. What happened? What did it mean for John's community? What is the meaning for us?
